CREW MAY BE ON STEAMER

Revenue Cutter Will Go In Search of Bark Remittent.

Newport News, Va., Feb. 6.—The last found sailing off the Azores by crew of the Norwegian bark Remittent, which sailed from Newport News, Jan. 1 for Naples and other ports.

While the revenue cutter Onondaga was preparing today to put to sea in an effort to solve a mystery which resembled that of the unexplained disappearance of the crew of the bark Maple Celeste in 1873 it was reported that the Remittent passing Gibraltar on June 19, signalled she had aboard the crew of the Remittent. That was the same day the Roumanian, steaming slowly from London to Port Arthur, Tex., came upon the bark sailing wildly about, with no hand at her tiller, and took her in tow after a hard chase. After taking the Remittent within 100 miles of Cape Henry, the Roumanian lost her in a fog, still apparently seaworthy, while her big canvas snugly furled in condition to ride out a gale with bare poles.

While the report that the Remittent with the Remittent's crew aboard, seems to solve what appears to be a mystery, the revenue cutter still will go in search of the bark which probably is still sailing wildly in mid-Atlantic, a menace to navigation. Catching a runaway ship at this time of year with no reported position to work to, revenue cutter officials declare is almost a hopeless task, for the currents during the last few months have been up in tricks new to the oldest mariners.

MORE VOTES ARE WANTED

Hollis Adherents Attempt to Force Votes From Carr and Woodbury

Concord, Feb. 6.—Today's vote for U. S. Senator also resulted in no choice. The total was smaller because of a larger number of pairs, but the standing of the leaders was practically unchanged from yesterday or Tuesday. Hollis still lacked five votes despite the most ingenious efforts of his supporters to find them. They surprised themselves even today that they were able to hold all that they had. Speaker Britton's vote of yesterday was increased by that of Pales of Laconia and Berquist of Manchester. McCarrall of Manchester joined Webster of Allenstown in voting for Chalmers; Woodbury's vote fell off two from the dissent of Crowell of Nashua and Pearson. The four Republicans who remained with Hollis were Philbrick, and Mulledge of ward 2, Portsmouth, Switzer of Laconia and Chase of Concord.

The members have gone home to think about it over Sunday, with a stronger feeling than heretofore that new men will be brought into prominence by the votes of next week to show to the people that the members as a part of the duty of the offices are disposed to try to elect a senator who they sought rather than to prolong a deadlock such as they have succeeded in accomplishing for the past two weeks without important change. By all the rules of the game it has been demonstrated beyond question that a majority of this joint convention is not disposed to elect either Mr. Hollis or Mr. Pearson or Mr. Bass senator. They have had the opportunity with Mr. Hollis and Mr.

Bass four full weeks ago with Mr. Pearson for two full weeks and could not bring themselves to it. For their supporters to continue for them longer cannot be construed by the people as but a determination not to elect since there are so many available men in all parties who have not been tried out.

A new force came upon the scene today in the person of William P. Murray of Boston. He is a bustling young Democrat who has a seat in Congress and he made a flying trip here from the national capital to suggest to the Democrats as he put it, some things that perhaps they have not thought of. He gained an interview with Mr. Hollis and Mr. Carr and Mr. Woodbury whom he had met before. He was very cordially received by these men notwithstanding there has been a feeling among the people of the state that if they were not able to solve their own problems without the dictation of men from Boston or elsewhere, they had better go unsolved, for the very good reason that the solution imposed by outsiders who have only theoretical knowledge of conditions and men are not so practical as a solution worked out by the people themselves here, who had full knowledge of conditions and men. But the Democrats have been so long out of power, have not as yet had the depressing experience of outside interference that the Republicans have had, and they may welcome it at this time.

PRIEST ARRESTED ON SUSPICION

Thought to Have Been Obtaining Money Under False Pretenses.

On complaint of Rev. Fr. Edward J. Walsh, D. R., of the church of the Immaculate Conception a stranger, who gave the name of David Vardal, was arrested at the Boston & Maine railroad station shortly before two o'clock this afternoon by officer Doherty, on the alleged charge of obtaining money by false pretenses.

The man in question presented credentials and is said to have received sums of money from several different parties while in this city.

Word was received from Dover that a man dressed as a priest had been soliciting funds in that city, but it was believed that he was an impostor and to be on the watch for him if he came this way.

This noon the party in question approached Rev. Fr. Walsh and after he had secured from the latter a sum of money, police headquarters was notified.

Officer Doherty was dispatched to the railroad station in post haste and soon had the fellow in custody.

At the police station he gave the name of David Vardal, aged 26, born in Turkey and occupation a priest.

When searched a ticket for Portland Me., was found on his person, as well as many receipts for money.

Rev. Fr. Walsh will communicate with Bishop Guerin as to the right of the so called priest to solicit funds, and pending the investigation he will be detained by the police.

Vardal was well dressed, and if he is an impostor, he well adapted himself in both dress and carriage to the holy office of the priesthood.

MANY TRANSFERS.

Frank H. Ellis Busy With Real Estate Deals.

Frank H. Ellis of York Beach has been one of the busiest men in York of late. Tuesday, Mr. Ellis closed a sale of land with Mrs. Muriel Bennett Sperry of Full River, Mass. He sold Mrs. Sperry twenty-eight lots comprising the beach property in Evanson and which adjoins the Sperry residence. Mrs. Sperry is the wife of the Rev. Mr. Sperry. Mr. Ellis sold four lots in Evanson, a few days ago, to John S. Young. The lots adjoin Mr. Young's other property there. Another recent sale of Mr. Ellis was a lot situated on Broadway, in Concordville, next to the Hedges house, the purchaser being Mrs. M. C. Bridges of Schenectady, N. Y. Mrs. Bridges will erect a house at once on the site.

YORK DISTRICT LODGE.

Good Templars to Meet at Kittery on Feb. 19.

The next quarterly session of York district lodge, International Order of Good Templars, will be held with Whipple lodge of Kittery on Wednesday, Feb. 19, the session opening at 10.30 a. m. There will be several grand lodge officers present, including Grand Chief Templar W. I. Sterling of Waterville, visitors from the grand lodge of New Hampshire and representatives from the national grand lodge. This is the largest district lodge in the state and it is expected that some action will be taken at the coming meeting relative to the enforcement of the prohibitory law in Maine.

READY FOR THE WORK.

Four Bridges on York Branch to Be Repaired by B. & M.

The Boston & Maine railroad will shortly begin the repair of bridges on the York Harbor and Kittery branch. The structures to be overhauled are those at Kittery point, Spruce Creek, Oakland Farms and York Harbor. On Thursday a work-train in charge of Conductor Taylor, was sent down the branch delivering the necessary piling and other material.

PORTSMOUTH YACHT CLUB.

The regular monthly meeting of the Yacht club was held Thursday evening. W. R. Dearborn was elected secretary to succeed G. A. Cullen, resigned. An amendment to the constitution was adopted, transferring the collection of dues from the treasurer to the secretary. A lunch was enjoyed after the meeting.

WALDO TAKES QUICK ACTION

After Hearing Confession of Sick Captain He Suspends Four in Graft Case

New York, Feb. 6.—The big developments today in the attack which Dist. Atty. Whitman is making on the graft system in the police department were the suspensions by Commissioner Walsh of Capt. Thomas W. Walsh, who confessed to being a grafter, last night; Inspector Sweeney, who was accused by Walsh and of Santa Inessey and Thompson, who were formerly inspectors and were assigned for a time to the district of which the precinct commanded by Walsh formed a part. There was also a shake-up among the detectives assigned to Inspector Sweeney.

That what Dist. Atty. Whitman considered as a most important link in his chain was the discovery that police headquarters had tried to take Capt. Walsh away from him as a witness for the people against the other grafting policemen and use him for the purpose of an individual hunt for graft within the department.

Deputy Commissioner Newburger was assigned to the task of discovering just precisely what Capt. Walsh had confessed to, and the deputy commissioner set about the work with a will.

Mr. Newburger, it is said, was very anxious that Mr. Whitman should not know that the police were interfering in the case. Every of his suspension and removal reached the captain, and in information, it is said, was made that if the captain did not order orders punishment would fall upon him. But the captain was no danger in this. He said he was certain that his usefulness as a policeman had already been destroyed. Then his loyalty to the force was appealed to, but still the captain refused to say a word about the things he talked of to Mr. Whitman.

Late tonight it was announced officially that Mr. Whitman had determined to stick to one trail in the hunt for grafting policemen, and that that trail led straight up to an inspector.

BATTLESHIP FIGHT IS ON.

Only Two Vessels Will Be Authorized; Probably Only One.

Washington, Feb. 7.—The fight against appropriating for battleships has begun in earnest in the House when Representative Sherwood of Ohio, heading the "no battleship" advocates, with a petition of fifty signatures, secured a democratic caucus to thresh out the matter Saturday evening.

Although many democrats strongly favor three battleships, the most optimistic concede that the "no battleship" action will prevent more than two being authorized and may succeed in holding the appropriation to a single vessel.

WORK ALL NIGHT.

Railroad Wreckers Called to Eliot to Clear Tracks.

With the thermometer at zero, the wrecking crew of the Boston & Maine railroad worked all night on Thursday at Eliot, where they were called to clear the track of freight cars. Two freights one on a siding, and the other on the main line, got together and two cars of the main line train were tipped over, blocking both inward and outward tracks. The wreckers cleaned the east bound track in an hour by pulling the cars one side after starting to work. The east-bound pullman was delayed at the depot here until the track was repaired. The wreckers arrived back at 6 o'clock this morning.

SLEIGH RIDE PARTIES.

The Junior class of the Portsmouth High school will enjoy a sleigh ride to Newington this evening. Members of the Sophomore class will take a ride to Greenland this evening.

PLANNING A BUSY WINTER

Local Elks Will Hold Grand Ball After Easter.

With a pitch and cribbage tournament under way and arrangements practically completed for a series of social, a resumption of the big bowling tournament that created so much enthusiasm two years ago and a big Elks ball, Portsmouth Lodge of Elks is in line for a busy winter. Arrangements are also being made for the second annual athletic tournament with the Warwick Club.

The pitch and cribbage tournament was begun this week. Play is being made by about thirty teams. Reginald C. Jones is in charge of the pitch and Dennis J. O'Connell of the cribbage. The tournament will close in the home March 12, when a luncheon will be served and the winners be presented with prizes.

Extensive plans are being made for the big bowling tournament between the Bucks and the Elks. About 200 teams will be entered in the tournament. Each member of the Elks team will bowl each Buck three strings, each string counting a point, and the total of the three strings counting two points. The grand total of points will decide the championship. In the tournament of two years ago about 250 members bowled and the championship was decided on the final night of play in the matches between Major Daniel W. Badger, and Elvin Newton and George W. Collins, the two oldest members of the lodge. The tournament will conclude the year with a banquet for which the losing team will pay. Oratory will conclude the banquet. It is expected that a grand lodge officer and Attorney William A. Murphy of Boston, who delivered the address at the memorial service, will be the principal speaker.

The big ball will come soon after the Easter season. Arrangements are in the hands of a committee of which Charles S. Long is chairman. The 11 o'clock east will be the big feature of the ball. At the tournament with the Warwick Club pitch, cribbage, pool, billiards and bowling will be played.

WANT TWO FIREMEN

On Locomotives, Railroad Companies Are Notified to That Effect.

The firemen on the fifty-four Eastern railroads who have voted on a proposition to strike if their demands are not granted, have notified the railroad managers that if the railroads do not grant two firemen on locomotives they will get the equivalent through Federal legislation.

At a conference between the railway managers and the firemen on December 26, President Carter, of the Firemen's Brotherhood, after calling attention to the fact that many railroad managers had conceded that firemen deserved some relief, used this language:

"So far as the firemen were concerned, they would have to have relief, and if they could not get it across the table they would have to get it at Washington. We are here trying to get it across the table. If we don't get it here, you can depend upon it they will get it at Washington. Now I don't mean that they will get two firemen at Washington. I mean they will get the ten or twelve-hour day, and they will not get it through this organization, but they will get it through the individual members of Congress. I believe I speak the truth that if we fail here to get relief for firemen, they will turn to Congress for it."

At first, the firemen demanded that two firemen be placed on every coal-burning locomotive. That demand has since been modified so as to include only engines of 200,000 pounds, or greater, weight on drivers.

If any such hard and fast rule is agreed to, it is obvious that it will be a question of time before demand will be made to put two men on engines of less weight, and eventually all engines will be included—with a resulting increase of just 100 per cent. in the payroll of firemen, even if no increase whatever in the rate of pay is granted.

The railroads concede that with the development of modern locomotives, the strain upon firemen has increased. All the railroads have given serious and sympathetic attention to this subject. On many runs there are two firemen. Other runs have been shortened. On many railroads, the men on these larger engines receive a much higher rate of pay.

The men demand a specific rule, to govern all railroads and all runs, depending solely upon the weight of the locomotive. The companies maintain that each case should be settled on its merits.

Many factors besides weight enter into this question. An engine may be heavy, but the run very short, so that the man will have to work hard for but a brief period. The train may be light, thus not requiring the maximum amount of coal for the run. Another important factor is that many railroads are trying automatic stokers, so that all the fireman has to do is to stoke by and see to it that the stoker works properly. But even on such engines the firemen's Brotherhood demands two firemen.

The companies offer to give assistance to the men wherever it is required.

The railroads suggest, if the question of when assistance is required cannot be settled locally as between the men and the companies, that it shall be settled by an independent committee-at-large, representing the railroads and the men in the territory affected.

The railroads desire the public to understand also that they are prepared to leave even the question as to the arrangements which shall be made for settling these questions locally to the jurisdiction of an independent board of arbitrators similar to that which, so satisfactorily to the country, settled the recent case of the engineers.

GAS, SOURNESS AND INDIGESTION VANISH

As Soon as "Fape's Diapepsin" Gets
In Stomach all Distress is Gone

"Really does" put bad stomachs in order—"really does" overcome indigestion, heartburn and sourness in five minutes—that—just—diap— makes Fape's Diapepsin the largest selling stomach regulator in the world. It whips you and ferments into stomachic lumps, you belch gas and eructate sour, undigested food and acid; head is dizzy and aches; breath foul, tongue coated; your insides filled with bile and indigestible waste, remember the moment Diapepsin comes in contact with the stomach all such distress vanishes. Its truly astonishing—almost unexplainable—and the joy in its harmlessness.

A large 50 cent case of Fape's Diapepsin will give you a hundred dollars worth of satisfaction or your druggists hands your money back. Its worth its weight in gold to men and women who can't get their stomachs regulated. It belongs in every home—should always be kept handy in case of sick, sour, upset stomach during the day and night. Its the quickest, surest and most harmless stomach doctor in the world.

English Heavyweight Champion Coming to Battle Luther McCarty

New York, Feb. 7.—Bombardier Wells, the sixteen haired English heavyweight champion is due to arrive here from London Feb. 7. Bombardier expects to hook up with Luther McCarty, the gentleman that put the shits under Mr. Al. Palzer, when the English champ arrives he will be sure of a real welcome, for he is one of the classical pugilists that ever crossed the briny. He made a big hit in his recent stay—in fact, so well was he liked that Billy Gibson, the New York light promoter gave him a farewell dinner.

NEW CASTLE

The charm and the delights of the early season have established themselves. Why should anyone complain of trouble due to what is called the inclemency of the elements. This is the first real snow storm of the season and is not only spectacular but beneficent. Here in the Island town the roads were a sodden trail of mud. It has spread a mantle of resplendent purity. There is a glory and a joy in this bright of the winter season which those who know how to appreciate it can take in for themselves fully.

Mrs. Carl Tante and little daughter Sandom left Wednesday for a sojourn with relatives in Lawrence.

Mr. B. F. Carle has gone to Lynn for a short visit.

Mrs. Sara Fay of Swampscott is the guest of relatives.

Mrs. Gladys Barker is restricted to her home by a heavy cold.

Ye Old Folks' concert to be given in Pythian hall February 14 promises to surpass all others ever given along these lines.

Mrs. William Clark, after a two weeks' visit with relatives, has returned to her home in Lawrence.

In the sudden passing from this life of Jonathan Emery Newcomb loses a most esteemed resident. His passing was an inspired poet has beautifully said: "Like one who wraps the drapery of his couch about him and lies down to pleasant dreams." He laid his hand on the fluttering heart and said "No still." The silence and shadow are only a part of the sweet will.

BRYCE A PERMANENT HAGUE COMMISSIONER

Named to This Post by the British Government—Time of Departure From United States Not Yet Set.

London, Feb. 6.—James Bryce, British ambassador to Washington, has been appointed by the British Government a member of the Permanent Court of Arbitration at The Hague. It was announced at the time of Ambassador Bryce's resignation that his departure from the United States would depend upon the settlement of the Panama Canal question between Great Britain and the United States.

ADDRESS ON BALKAN STATES

Those in attendance at the Y. M. C. A. supper on Thursday evening, enjoyed a very able talk on the Balkan states and their country from a man who lived for some years along in that section of the country and among these people.

Mr. W. W. Steeper of Walsley who returned but recently from the Balkan states was very familiar with all of the conditions of the people of the Balkan states and the extent of what they had suffered at the hands of the Turks.

He went over the early history of the Balkan states and told of their people and what they did before the Turks invaded Europe and drove them from their homes. The folk songs and folk lore were also interesting bits of information that Mr. Steeper seemed to be very familiar with. As to the outcome of the present war he was confident that the people of the Balkan states would win out and drive the Turks from Europe for now and always.

NEGROES OPPOSING MARRIAGE MEASURE

Madison, Wis., Feb. 6.—The Stewart bill prohibiting the marriage of blacks and whites is meeting with sharp disapproval from the colored contingent of Wisconsin. The Hooker Washington Men's Forum of Milwaukee has petitioned the members of the Legislature against the proposed law, branding it as a "vicious attempt at class legislation, contrary to the political and civil economy of our republican institutions." Assemblyman T. A. Stewart declares that he introduced the measure to prevent marriages "like that of Jack Johnson and the Cameron girl."

DELIVERS LUNCHES BY PARCELS POST

Chicago, Feb. 6.—An innovation in lunch delivery by the agency of the parcels post was started yesterday, when a downtown restaurant sent out 300 meals, in pasteboard packages, to brokers, bankers, real estate men, clerks and those of other occupations. The packages were mailed so that they would be delivered shortly before the noon hour. The idea was evolved as a solution of the short lunch period permitted to many business men.

Drive Headache Away With Musterole

A headache remedy without the dangers of "headache medicine." You run no risk when you use MUSTEROLE to relieve that headache and miserable feeling from cold or congestion. And it acts at once! MUSTEROLE is a clean, white ointment made with oil of mustard. You rub it on the forehead and temples. Better than a mustard plaster and does not blister. Used only externally, and in no way can affect the stomach and heart, as some internal medicines do.

Good for Sore Throat, Bronchitis, Croup, Stiff Neck, Asthma, Neuralgia, Congestion, Pleurisy, Rheumatism, Lumbago, all Pains and Aches of the Back or Joints, Sprains, Sore Muscles, Bruises, Chills, Frost Bites, Colic of the Chest, etc. (Prevents Pneumonia). At your druggists, in 25c and 50c jars, and a special large hospital size for $2.50.

Accept no substitute. If your druggist cannot supply you, send 25c or 50c to the Musterole Company, Cleveland, Ohio, and we will mail you a jar, postage prepaid.

Mrs. F. R. Snyder, Brooklyn, New York: "Have been helped many times by Musterole when I have had severe headaches."

BULGARIANS GIVING THE TURKS BATTLE

Want to Take the Dardanelles and Have Already Captured
Several Towns.

Sofia, Bulgaria, Feb. 6.—The Turkish Army occupying the Peninsula of Gallipoli and defending the Dardanelles suffered a defeat at the hands of the Bulgarian troops to the south of the river Kavak yesterday according to a semi-official statement made at the Bulgarian War Office.

The Ottoman troops are said to have retreated toward the town of Bulair, a small place to the northeast of the city of Gallipoli. They were pursued hotly by the Bulgarians.

The statement concludes that as a result of this success the Bulgarian troops nearly the whole coast of the Sea of Marmora as far as Bulair is now in the hands of the Allies. Bulair is directly upon the Isthmus connecting the Peninsula of Gallipoli with Europe. Its investment cuts off supplies of Gallipoli from the land. Thence the Sea of Marmora runs east northeast to Constantinople.

TRY TO TAKE DARDANELLES

Plan of Bulgarian Armies Discovered by Sofia Dispatches—Marching Straight for Gallipoli.

London, Feb. 6.—The main object of the Bulgarian Armies, apart from the reduction of the Fortress of Adrianople, was disclosed in dispatches from Sofia today. They are endeavoring to reach the Dardanelles Strait and to clear it for the passage of the Greek fleet into the Sea of Marmora, whence it will be able to attack Constantinople directly from the sea.

From the reports of the fighting to the north of the peninsula of Gallipoli it can be seen that one of the columns of King Ferdinand's troops is marching straight for the city of Gallipoli. It has occupied already the villages of Meseste, Charukel, Kavak and Bulair which are on the neck of the peninsula. It has not yet, however, come into contact with any large force of Turkish troops, of which there are said to be 70,000 on the Gallipoli peninsula.

These, in the opinion of military experts, should, owing to their favorable position, be able to offer a strenuous resistance to the advance of the Bulgarians from the north. The guns of the Dardanelles forts also can be trained toward the land side, so that the Bulgarians have a severe task before them.

Even with all these preparations for battle in Gallipoli, with the bombardment of Adrianople in progress, and with the movement of troops at the Tchatalja lines before Constantinople, the diplomats of Europe are convinced that the war will not last long.

The financial embarrassment of all the combatants and the loss of enthusiasm for the war by the peoples of the countries involved lead to the belief that peace negotiations will be resumed soon.

DRYDEN DEFEATS HALM IN AN EXCITING MATCH

Bill Dryden the local wrestler who seems to dispose of all of the p nuchers in the wrestling game, went up a notch in the estimation of the fans on Thursday evening when he disposed of George Halm of New York in the hardest battle of his career.

Halm, who has a great reputation in New York state is a middle weight who is willing to meet anybody in the world at his weight and from his work of last night he has something to justify his confidence. He is a very fast wrestler who works clean and he has wonderful strength, especially in his neck and shoulders.

He clearly had Dryden guessing the greater part of the evening, but they were both willing and the match was very fast. Dryden was in the better condition and he came out of the match in fine form while Halm was plainly all in. Fritz Hanson owing to the failure of Killough to appear referred the match and he was very fair.

Halm won the first fall on Dryden in 15 minutes and 30 seconds with a double arm lock and body scissors.

In the second bout both men were very aggressive and time and time again Halm would roll Dryden with an arm held and once he had him with a body scissors and an arm lock which he however broke. Dryden finally got the fall in 30 minutes with a body scissors and a wrist hold.

With one fall each there was considerable excitement in the last bout. Halm worked hard to get Dryden into a good position and several times he looked as though he would pin him to the mat only to be finally thrown off. Neither man was able to get a toe hold and both fought shy of any opening. Finally after a hard rally Dryden rolled Halm into a front croch and with a half nelson and his body over his chest he finally pinned Halm's shoulders to the mat in 34 minutes and 30 seconds. Dryden got a great ovation from the crowd who were delighted to see the local man win.

Dryden announced that Joe Turner who holds the Police Gazette belt for the middle weight championship, was in New England and would wrestle here next Monday evening and Dryden decided to give him a chance. Turner is one of the best men in the country with an open challenge to meet any man in the middle weight in the world for any size side bet and for his belt and title.

It should be a very good match, for while Dryden will have a few pounds on Turner who will weigh in at the present time at about 185, he is up against a man who has met the best and an old hand at the game.

SENATOR FAVORS THREE BATTLESHIPS

Washington, Feb. 6.—"Three battleships if possible; two no matter what action the House may take."

That is the slogan of the Senate on the question of battleship construction. The House Committee will report its bill in a few days. The House opponents to the extension of the American Navy are endeavoring to limit the increase of the navy establishment to two big fighting machines. Senators are making their plans to frustrate this parsimonious policy of the House and compel that body to agree to the normal ordinary expansions required by conditions that now confront the United States.

The Senate cannot act until the House bill comes over, but when it does come the measure can be entirely reconstructed. Republicans and senators generally are favorable to two battleships, and the majority of the Naval Committee will so report. Last session similar action was taken by a unanimous vote and the House compelled to repudiate its caucus decree for no battleships at all.

The sentiment among senators of both parties is stronger today than last year and with the pressure of business before Congress at the close of a short session, senators who believe in the broad American policy, regardless of politics, intend to force the House to be responsive to the wishes of the people.

"If it were in my power and my solitary voice could dominate the policy of Congress I would vote for the building of three battleships of the most powerful class," said Senator Thornton of Louisiana, a member of the Naval Committee. "The attempt to curtail the increase of the navy at this time is little short of criminal. The curtailment of our program of construction at the last session was a great mistake and I am sorry that it was due entirely to Democrats that the navy was crippled.

To Protect the Capital.

Congress has finally authorized the fortification of the mouth of Chesapeake Bay, which, it is expected, will make the National Capital seaward. In the coast fortifications bill, which passed the Senate today, is the following item, which had already been passed by the House:

"For the procurement or reclamation of land or right pertaining therein needed for sites, location, construction or prosecution of works of fortification or coast defenses, $100,000."

This simple phraseology commits the Government to an important work of new coast defenses in the vicinity of Cape Henry, Va., that will cost, according to the official estimates, not less than $2,000,000. It has been recognized for many years that sooner or later the Government would have to erect strong fortifications at the mouth of Chesapeake Bay. Fort Monroe is no longer regarded as a sufficient defense against a foreign invading force that might enter the capes with a fleet of armored ships. General Leonard Wood has expressed the opinion that this is the most important piece of fortification work to be done on the Atlantic coast. He is said to have remarked that the War Department was considering the advisability of changing the type of Cape Henry guns from 12-inch to 14-inch guns and that the armament there would be eight 12-inch mortars four-inch 4-inch rifles and four 6-inch rifles.

The legislatures of several of the Eastern States have had the question of a state income tax submitted to them by their governors. This source of revenue may now be regarded as lost to the state for a double income tax would not be a popular or successful plan in any part of the country.—From the Hartford Times, Conn.

Fact Stranger Than Fiction.

There are times in the life of the modern newspaper when editorial comment on current events would appear superfluous—when the story would speak for itself. In the following narrative, of unquestioned authenticity, we note the fact that all fools, even legislative fools, are not yet defunct. "The Missouri legislature, long famed for its freak legislation, has been fairly conventional so far, but now a bill has been introduced which makes previous efforts look pale. The act was put in by Representative Hay of Butler county, and if it becomes a law will go far toward alleviating the sad condition of down-trodden man in Missouri. It prohibits women from wearing dresses that button up in the back unless they are fitted with buttons the size of a silver dollar. It also provides a fine of from $1 to $3 for violation of the law, and there is a jail sentence for persistent violation. Representative Hay introduced the measure with a burst of oratory in which he said that it is a public need and there should be no opposition to it. It was strongly hinted by political rivals that Mr. Hay has a wife who makes him fasten her dress and who refuses to change her habits. Mr. Hay did not deny this with a very convincing air, and it is believed in some quarters that he is trying to get help from the legislature in a family quarrel. Mr. Hay points out that by having such large buttons the necessity of having aid from her husband will no longer confront a woman except of the stoutest variety, and when it does it will be very easy to make connections between the buttonholes and the buttons."

Crooked to the Last.

Those at all familiar with the history of Big Bill Keliher and his comrades long ago came to the conclusion that in his so-called confession he had given loose rein to his romancing proclivities. Being in the hole himself, with small chance of getting out before the expiration of his term of sentence, this notorious crook, admitting that he hasn't drawn an honest breath for years, seeks to drag down others to his infamous level. The biggest surprise of his wretched career came in the form of conviction and sentence for his crimes, and his exhibition of mock heroics when caught with the goods, was characteristic of as cold-blooded a land pirate as ever existed. When actually under arrest he remarked as smilingly as was possible under the circumstances: "I bow to the law, gentlemen." Reminding us of the gentleman of Teutonic persuasion who lost his wife. When the minister called, on an errand of consolation, he remarked: "Was she resigned?" "Mein Gott, she had to be," was the earnest response which was Big Bill's fix to the letter. For years he had recklessly defied the law, confident that he could buy his way out of any and every trouble. Therein he erred, as the sequel proved. And now this fellow of infinite nerve asks District Attorney Whitman of New York to pay him for prospective specializing concerning the fake faro bank connection of alleged grafting Gotham police officials, which proposition is properly turned down by Whitman. In no sense is Keliher repentant. He has simply been brought to bay and trying to show that others are as deeply involved in roguery as he is.

Man Without a Country.

Little Cipriano Castro, erstwhile dictator of Venezuela, and a pretty shabby one at that, seems to be having a much better time in New York, since his temporary release from Ellis Island, than he had a comparatively short time ago in the shaky executive chair of the South American republic. While out of the immigrant pen on bail, and with plenty of ill-gotten money to spend, he seems quite reconciled to the possibility of becoming a North American, with all therein implied, and if he should succeed in effecting permanent lodgment here it is possible he could be made over into a fairly decent citizen of the United States, for notwithstanding his notoriously rotten official record the words of the old hymn should be borne in mind, "While the lamp holds out to burn the vilest sinner may return." Yesterday Mr. Castro was the guest of Governor Sulzer in the executive mansion, Albany. Today the writ of habeas corpus, sworn out in his behalf, is to come up for argument. On general principles we would permit the little fellow to stay in this country conditioned upon his keeping away from the red flag crowd.

Fisher's Policy Defense.

In his recent appearance before the House committee on territories, Secretary Fisher, of the Interior department, added materially to his excellent reputation as the head of one of the most important departments of government. In his able defense of coal land policies he urged more and larger appropriations to enable the department to extend its investigating scope; vigorously advocated the idea of having one or more trunk lines to connect the Alaskan inland water ways and the coast; said that because of lack of adequate coal land laws the territory had not been opened, and agreed that under present conditions there was undoubtedly a great waste of Alaskan resources. The committee seemed quite favorably impressed with his argument.

Cipriano Castro, Who Forced His Way Temporarily Into the U. S.

After weeks of legal skirmishing Cipriano Castro, former president of Venezuela, succeeded in forcing the United States authorities to let him put his foot on the American mainland. He had been held as an undesirable visitor at Ellis Island under orders from the federal government, the basis of the action being a charge that Castro had committed political murder in Venezuela. The "Hornet Petrel," as he is known, gained temporary freedom on a writ of habeas corpus, which was to be argued a week later and gave him the right to roam as he pleased in New York city in the meantime. Above is one of the latest pictures of him.

THERE IS A PROBLEM IN C. F. KING'S PARDON

All New England is interested in Charles F. King's chances for a release from prison which are dependent upon the ability of the executive committee to satisfy itself that the conditions it may attach to a pardon shall be binding. The sentiment of the council in his case has changed greatly in the last week. When the hearing before the pardon committee was finished, says the Herald, the question was really whether the conditions suggested by Governor Foss should be imposed. Now there is an agreement that any pardon issued must contain much more severe restrictions. The Governor has expressed to the council his willingness to agree to restrictions that means to it proper.

To settle the question whether the pardon commission or some other designated officer should cause the return of King to prison should be the duty of the restrictions upon which he may be released. Lieut. Governor Walsh will ask for advice of the Atty. General. Before agreeing upon conditions the council wants the authority of the law department as assurance that the conditions will not be merely life words.

A majority of the council, if not all its members, believe that a pardon carrying the condition that the prisoner be returned to prison if his health improves sufficiently to warrant it, would be practically an impossibility.

conditional pardon, because physicians could not be found who could pass judgment which would send back a man suffering from an incurable condition.

Because of the physical condition of the former promoter the council members are willing to allow him the comfort of living with his family. Their difficulties have increased rather than diminished as they have considered how they may so hedge him in with restrictions that they will not give him more freedom than they intend. The suggestion of the Lieut. Governor that a provision prohibiting his engaging in any brokerage or promoting business however legitimate, has met with the favor of the other members of the council.

King has expressed a willingness to bind himself to any condition the council may impose, but more promise is not sufficient for the pardoning board. There have been brilliant gambles from the council's districts to convince the members that there would be a great outcry if King should show such inoperative ability as was exhibited by Charles W. Morse after his release from Atlanta.

There is no disposition among the council members to doubt the nature of King's affliction is such that while he might live for years his condition might become critical at any time, requiring an operation of the most dangerous character. They also met by the fact that in all likelihood he would be able, if released, to get about the financial district again or at least to direct a business from his home by the use of the telephone.

MORE VOTES ARE WANTED

Mr. Hollis's rooms at the hotel immediately.

After a conference the lieutenants and others were brought in and he held a sort of reception there. He held his conference with Mr. Carr and Mr. Woodbury later, but it was not followed by an opening of the doors for a general reception of friends, there, and he made no further efforts to see the Democratic members generally, as would have been impracticable anyway, because of the general departure of members for their homes upon the afternoon trains.

Following his conference with Mr. Carr and Mr. Woodbury, Congressman Murray turned to Mr. Hollis as if he had come here as his guest and supporter, until it was time to take his train back to Washington this evening. There was no manifest indication that he felt he had achieved his real purpose in his hurried trip here. His singling out Mr. Carr and Mr. Woodbury who happened to be the only Democrats who had been receiving votes for the past two days, for conference aside from his more prolonged and general conference with Mr. Hollis and his lieutenants, leads to the inference that he endeavored to induce them to force men to vote for Mr. Hollis who had been unwilling to do so, even under all the allurement that Mr. Hollis and his lieutenants could hold out. If he had known Mr. Carr and Mr. Woodbury as their acquaintances knew them, he would never have made his long trip on such a mission. And if he could have known the situation here as Mr. Hollis's lieutenants know it, he would have understood that these men for whom coercion has sought are voting the election of Mr. Hollis rather than for Carr or Woodbury.

It is stated that the members of the Progressive party, will come back here Monday afternoon, for an all day conference with a view of determining if something effective cannot be worked out. Since the Republicans have concentrated their vote upon a single candidate it has been easy for the public to see who has been blocking the effort to elect a man to the senate who is not a free-trader, and some, if not all, of these Progressive members are beginning to realize it. The general public understand for it has been publicly stated, that the Progressives have been asked daily by the committee acting for the Republican caucus if they would submit a name or names of some man or men who are or have been recently, Republicans, and who advocate a revision of the tariff downward but preserving the principle and necessary medium of protection for whom they would be willing to vote, if from such a list someone would be taken by the Republican caucus as its nominee, also, only to be met with the reply that such an attitude is not winning for them and the new organization the confidence of the people in their ability to carry great responsibilities, and the more thoughtful of them are becoming restive under it. From the way the people are talking about it they are fearful that they are putting themselves in a hole. The Republicans have not asked "why will you not support our candidate, but will you name some new man whom you so will support if we can bring our 155 to him and they are answering in the negative.

TIES UP RAILROAD.
Insulator Breaks at Power Plant and Hundreds of Cars Are Stalled.

Traffic was tied up on all divisions of the Massachusetts Northeastern Railroad on Thursday by a break at the power station in this city. Hundreds of cars were stalled at all points along the 145 miles of track operated by the company between this city, Newburyport, Haverhill, Lawrence, Lowell and Nashua.

The plant in this city furnishes the power for all the various divisions, being transmitted by a high-tension line and distributed from various stations along the lines. The breaking of an insulator caused the blowing out of a machine and it was three hours before the necessary repairs were made and traffic resumed early in the afternoon.

CADILLAC HAS UNIQUE PLAN TO CONSERVE ENERGY

Current Generated in Testing, Utilized in Factory

"Given a competent and resourceful staff of executives and engineers," says E. C. Howard, sales manager of the Cadillac Motor Car Co., "plans and methods can be devised whereby money can be saved in production, and utilized in the betterment of the product and the cost of the product reduced to the ultimate user."

"Recently the Cadillac Company devised and adopted a new idea in its engine and chassis testing department which accomplished an extraordinary saving, or rather enables us to utilize power which previously had been lost. "After the engines are assembled, they are run for some hours on the black. The engines spin away until they operate with smoothness and precision. Heretofore while the engines were run under their own power, the power thus generated was wasted; that is, there was no return from the consumption of gasoline, oil, and labor other than that secured by the test itself.

"We now have 72 of these testing blocks or jacks. In connection with each jack there is an electric dynamo. When the auto engine is under running test, it drives the dynamo thereby generating the current the same as an electric power plant. The current thus generated is run into the main line and utilized in driving the machinery throughout the factory.

"After the engine is installed in the chassis, the entire chassis is given another run of some hours on a dynamometer stand. By the latter method every power transmitting unit of the entire car from engine to rear axle is put through a course of sprouts, so to speak. It enables the tester to vary the load at will and to put the chassis under almost any test desired.

"The current generated in this test is also run into the main line and utilized as before explained. "But the conserving of energy does not end here. The water which is heated in passing through the circulating system of the engine, is piped to the washrooms for use there."

I am prepared to do your sheet iron, tin and copper work. I have with me, MR. CHAS. CASWELL, formerly with W. E. Paul, and he would be glad to meet any of his old friends, also new ones. ## ITEMS OF INTEREST TO NAVY YARD EMPLOYEES

Cut His Ankle.

While cutting out some skins on Thursday, Elmer Pruett, a shipwright in the hull division, sustained a bad cut on the left ankle. He was attended by the yard medical force and then sent to his home in Kittery.

Ice Nearly Ready to Cut.

If the weather continues warm, the prisoners will begin the cutting and storing of the ice crop on the yard pond. Chief boatswain Larsen, who will have charge of the work, is putting the rigging in shape for the work.

Ten Years' Work for Hannibal

The Hannibal will continue her surveying work on the coast of Central America from Cape Gracias a Dios to Puerto Huelo. This work will occupy her for ten years if she works alone. The navy department is hoping to fit out the Leonidas to assist the Hannibal and thereby shorten the time.

The work of the Hannibal is the most important survey work now being done by the Hydrographic Office, because of the approaching completion of the Panama Canal. When the survey work of the Hannibal is finished aids to navigation along the coast, such as lighthouses, beacons and buoys must be established.

A Mile From Shore

The surveying ship Hannibal on the way to her working grounds on the east coast of Central America stopped at Swan Island to locate a rock with eighteen feet of water on it about a mile from shore. The Hydrographic Office has received a radiogram from the Hannibal giving the location of the rock, which will be published in notice to mariners.

Naval Movements

The Cyclops has arrived at Guantanamo, the Henty at Guacanayabo bay, and the Hopkins at Mars Island.

The Nero has sailed from Bremerton for Honolulu, the Des Moines from Guantanamo for Guacanayabo bay, the Arethusa from Port Arthur for Manzanillo, the Caesar from Newport News for Guantanamo and the Justa from Tularon for San Diego.

Marine Corps Orders

Capt. W. L. Jolly, resignation accepted to take effect February 4, 1913.

Back From Panama.

Capt. Bartlett, head of the department of machinery, returned on Thursday from his trip to the Panama canal.

Start Again Tomorrow.

The board of inquiry which recently discontinued its sessions to be resumed on Feb. 18, will start before that date and begin again on Saturday.

Examination at Norfolk.

Master Mechanic Frank Wearin of the machinery division has returned from the Norfolk yard where he went to take the examination held for the position of master mechanic at that yard.

Back from Washington

Allen H. Robinson delegate of the civil service employees, who has been in Washington on behalf of this branch of service, returned to the Portsmouth yard arrived back today. The delegation of six from Boston, Philadelphia, Washington, Newport and this station met both the secretary and assistant secretary and were decidedly pleased with the reception on the part of the navy heads who promised to give the clerks' appeal for better conditions careful consideration.

The only call issued by the labor board in several weeks was that of a boat builder and one laborer.

KITTERY

Breezy Items From Village Across the River.

OBITUARY

Dennis Dee
Dennis Dee, a well known pioneer resident of Manchester, died on Thursday at his home in that city aged 72 years. In the days of the wooden navy he was employed at the Portsmouth navy yard as a boilermaker. He was a man much respected by his friends and acquaintances, wherever he was known. To the older inhabitants of this city and a few of the old school of mechanics, who are left, with whom he labored, his death brings much sorrow. He is the last of the charter members of the Ancient Order of Hibernians of Manchester, and was president of the organization at the time of his death. He was a devout church member and for some time has worked in the interests of the Cathedral. Mr. Dee is survived by the widow, Mrs. Dennis Dee; three daughters, Misses M. Ella, Mary, Irene and Katherine Isadore, all of Manchester; and two sons, one of whom is the Rev. Walter L. Dee, D.D., of Claremont, formerly of the Manchester parish.

CUT PRICE OF COAL.

Second Reduction at Biddeford in Less Than a Month.

Stove and nut coal $7.50 a ton delivered, and egg coal, $7.25 are the new prices announced by the York Co. at Biddeford on Thursday. There has been a big demand for stove coal but the prices have been $8 or more, and the news of the new prices will no doubt interest all who in any way have to buy coal.

It has been indicated on the street that it would not be surprising if the prices were cut again.

There is no need of saying that none of the people who buy coal will find any fault.

This is the second cut by the company within a month.

Concord, Feb. 6.—There was absolutely no change in the senatorial vote of today as compared with the vote of Wednesday, so far as the general result is concerned. Exactly the same men voted for the leader in the race, Henry J. Hollis, as on the previous day, with the exception that a few more men were paired. He still lacks five votes of the number necessary for a choice and still fails to receive the vote of six men who are recorded as Democrats.

The ballot of today was devoid of special interest, with the exception of the three votes cast for Speaker William J. Britton of Wolfboro. During the past twenty-four hours an effort has been made by Republicans in the legislature to unite upon Mr. Britton as a candidate. It was believed by some Republicans that the Progressives would accept Mr. Britton, who was their original nominee for speaker but who was elected by a coalition with the Democrats. The Progressives, however, have not taken kindly to the suggestion and at a conference ing on the bills introduced by Robert J. Mayberry of Manchester providing for the sealing of milk bottles and also regulating the sale of ice. There is a majority and minority report in both these matters. The bills have been made special orders for 11.07 and 11.08 Tuesday morning.

The committee on public improvements at an executive session this morning voted to report unanimously in favor of the bill providing for the erection of a statue to President Franklin Pierce in the state house yard.

BOSTON GRAND OPERA

So many would be patrons could not gain admittance to the Boston Opera House when Mme. Schumann-Helk sang there in "Il Trovatore" a week ago that in response to many requests and in deference to out of town opera goers who find it more convenient to attend an afternoon performance, Director Russell has arranged to have the great contralto sing once more at a special matinee on Wednesday, Feb. 12, Lincoln's birthday. "Hansel and Gretel," one of the most popular operas in the repertoire will be the bill and Mme. Schumann-Helk will take the part of the witch, in which she is formidable. (Otherwise the cast will be that of former presentations this season, with Mmes. Swartz and Ploner as Hansel and his sister Gretel. The opera will be followed by an act from "Coppelia," with the full ballet and Mme. Galli as Swanilda.

"Hansel" (pronounced Zhan-ee-ee) a one act opera by Bizet will be sung for the first time in America on Friday night and will be the outstanding novelty in the week's repertoire. Although it is a "Carmen" for it was given for the first time at the Opera Comique in Paris on May 22, 1872, like the other works of Bizet it has always been overshadowed by the world conquest which "Carmen" made later. The story is taken from a poem by Alfred de Musset, entitled "Nannette" and the scene is laid in Cairo. As in Carmen Bizet stands unrivaled as a scene painter in vocal color, so in the earlier work he imparts the atmosphere of the Orient. The story is romantically dramatic and the music, exquisite throughout.

Mme. Welngartner-Mareel will create the role of Djanet, a slave, and associated with her will be Leon Lafitte, the noted French tenor, Ernesto Cavasone and Edgard Borghin. There will be a ballet and solo dance as well. Mr. Welngartner will conduct.

An opera in short it will be followed by "I Pagliacci" in which Mme. Mella will sing Nedda, Zennaro will have one of his greatest roles. That of Canio and Pollesse and Everett will be the "Pinto and Silvio."

On Monday evening "Tristan and Isolde" will be given its last performance under Mr. Welngartner's baton. Again the cast will be headed by Carl Herbin and Olive Fromstedt as the lovers. Mme. Gay will sing Kurwenal and Edward Jankow will appear as the King.

On Wednesday evening and again on Saturday afternoon will come repetitions of Muzart's melodious "Don Giovanni" which has been the artist's success of the season. On both occasions the same great all-star cast will appear including the world famous artist Vanni Marcoux, Emmy Destin, Alice Nibeson, Elizabeth Amaden, John McCormack, Jose Mardones, Adalmo Didur, Perello de Segurain and Luigi Taveccchia. Mr. Welngartner will direct all performances.

On Saturday evening there will be another special Welngartner performance when popular prices will prevail in the balconies. "Otello" Verdi's masterpiece will be sung with almost identical the cast which the Boston critics to a man on Tuesday morning last, pronounced to be the greatest which had ever been heard in the opera.

A HAPPY, LAUGHING CHILD IN FEW HOURS

If Cross, Feverish, Tongue Coated
or Sick, Give 'Syrup of Figs'

Mother! Don't scold your cross, peevish child! Look at the tongue! See if it is white, yellow, and coated! If your child is listless, drooping, isn't sleeping well, is restless, doesn't eat heartily, is cross, irritable, out of sorts with everybody, stomach sour, feverish, breath bad; has stomach ache, diarrhoea, sore throat, or is full of cold, it means the little one's stomach, liver and 30 feet of bowels are filled with poisons and foul, constipated waste matter and need a gentle, thorough, cleansing out.

Give a teaspoonful of Syrup of Figs, and in a few hours all the clogged-up waste undigested food and sour bile will gently move on and out of his little clogged bowels without nausea, griping, or weakness, and you will surely have a well happy and smiling child again shortly.

With Syrup of Figs you are not dragging your children, being composed entirely of delicious figs, senna and aromatics it cannot be harmful, besides they surely love its delicious taste.

Mothers should always keep Syrup of Figs handy. It is the only stomach, liver and bowel cleanser and regular needed—a little given today will save a sick child tomorrow.

Full directions for children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly printed on the package.

Ask your druggist for the full name "Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna" prepared by the California Fig Syrup Co. This is the delicious tasting, genuine old reliable. Refuse anything else offered.

era in Boston. Mme. Welngartner-Mareel will be the Desdemona and Mr. Zennaro will repeat, his masterly Otello. Mr. Pollesse will sing Iago and Mme. Claessens and Mme. Diaz, Cilla and Mar Jones will be others in the cast.

The orchestral concert on Sunday afternoon again will enlist the entire orchestra under the leadership of Mr. Welngartner. The program will consist largely of compositions by the gifted director, Mme Welngartner will be the soloist.

PENSION CHECKS SENT OUT ON TIME

Washington, Feb. 6.—The first checks, paid to pensioners under the new system, which aid away with the 18 agencies in various parts of the country, and united them here under one head, have just gone out, and every one of the more than 800,000 due this month were in the mail on time.

"The crucial test, the one which we were sure we would be able to pass successfully, has been made without a hitch," said Dr. Alvah H. Thompson in charge of the disbursements, after the last pensioner's check had started on its way today. "On account of this vast work involved in bringing in all these agencies with their voluminous records, it was feared there might be some delay this first month, but such, happily, is not the case."

One of the things that pleased him most about the new method of payment, Dr. Thompson said was that all the checks are drawn on the Treasurer of the United States. In days of stringency or a money panic, he said this would tend to keep money from concentrating for the thousands of banks throughout the country that would be called on to cash pension checks, totaling many millions annually, would be able to keep their actual cash at home.

TAFT LISTENS TO PROTESTS

Washington, Feb. 6.—When President Taft gave a hearing today upon the new immigration bill he also had before him protests from Germany, Italy and the Netherlands against the provision which authorizes the secretary of commerce and labor to place inspectors, matrons and public health service surgeons aboard immigrant ships to report to American immigration authorities upon the condition and treatment of immigrants en route.

Another protest, from Austria, is said to be on the way, and intimations have been received that France and England will join the protest. All the protesting nations are said to regard the provisions as an infringement of their sovereignty over their ships on the high seas and impugning the faith of their officials in the execution of the immigration laws.

Many prominent Jews arrived here today to protest to the President against certain features of the bill. President Taft told those appearing that he was virtually sitting as a judge.

"The burden is upon those who oppose this bill," said the President. "It requires a very strong showing to induce the executive to override the action of both houses of Congress."

Representative Curley of Massachusetts presented a petition, which he said bore the signatures of 500,000 American citizens who opposed the bill. President Taft at the conclusion of arguments said he would read any letters filed before making his decision whether to approve or veto the bill.

FISH ARE HIGH. Rough Weather Along the Coast Cause for Scarcity.

Fish is still scarce and consequently high in price. This is due largely to the long continued rough weather along the coast which prevents the fishermen from taking their usual fares. Thursday the following prices prevailed along the Portland wharves: Large cod, 77; market cod, 55; haddock, 56; large hake, 47; medium hake, 44.25; cusk 32.25; pollock, 35; scrod, 31.50.

It is apparent from these figures that the reported break in the fish famine that has been prevailing for the past six weeks has by no means come, and from all present indications will not arrive until more favorable weather prevails outside to allow the fishermen a chance to ply their trade.

WHO ARE THEY?

A Biddeford paper says that George Danforth of this city, and Frank Staples were before the police court in that city on Thursday on a charge of intoxication and were let go with a suspended sentence. Staples may know something about Portsmouth, but George is not a native with that name. The local directory has some funny ones, but the pages of the local book of directions never contained anything with that collection of the alphabet. It looks as if George handed a phony one to the authorities at Biddeford.

In police court on Thursday afternoon before Judge Simms, Ethel Anderson was charged with assault and insult on Rebecca Dixon, both colored. The Dixon woman was charged with assault upon the Anderson woman. It was a family scrap and the Anderson woman, who was accused of throwing hot water at the Dixon woman, was fined $1 and costs and the charge of insult was continued. Rebecca Anderson was continued.

Michael McDermott was given a suspended sentence of six months.

A SOCIAL WORKER WITH POLICE POWER

With the idea of battling the condition of the young girls and women of this city, a movement is on foot on the part of many women from the various churches to have a woman social worker appointed to work in this city and, if possible, to invest the woman with police power.

The idea is one suggested by Dr. Argyrionch of the Municipal Research League, who recently made a survey of this city and in his recommendations set forth the great need of such a woman to work among the girls and women of this city, especially in the summer months. The idea to have the woman invested with police power is merely for the moral effect for it is argued that with such authority she would be able to do more effective work and have greater respect from the class of people she would labor with. It is not expected that occasion will arise where she would have to make use of it, but it is well known that more respect is paid to an official if they are vested with authority than a private citizen trying to do the same kind of work.

It is not intended that the social worker will be a woman police, or that she will be a matron of the police station, but just what her titles signified a worker along social lines with the one object of guarding and advising wayward girls and keeping others on the right path. A woman of this kind if she is the right temperament would be able to go into the home of these young girls and get at the bottom of the waywardness and to build up from the home life.

It is not intended to ask the city to defray the expenses of the social worker, for this has been pledged by the women of the various churches and the sum necessary for a years trial will be readily obtained.

Marshall Hurley has been interviewed by the women interested and he has given his approval believing that there is a considerable field for women of this kind. This opinion is also held by the Probation and Truant officer and others who come in touch with such cases.

A woman trained in this kind of work will be engaged from out of this city a woman with experience who will be first a woman with that necessary sympathy for her own sex, which will enable her to accomplish what no man can do in this line of work.

Her field will be the streets, amusement places, parks and the homes, and if the year's trial shows that some good can be accomplished, then it will be made a permanent thing.

Cottolene

Cottolene will help you immensely in trying to "make both ends meet," by cutting down your butter bills. Use butter on your table, but not in your kitchen. With butter at present prices, you simply could not afford to use it in cooking, even if it would produce better results. But when Cottolene will shorten and fry as good as or even better than butter—and the price is about one-third—why not try it, and practice economy without feeling that you are "skimping" yourself or your table?

Remember also that two-thirds of a pound of Cottolene will go as far as a pound of either butter or lard.

Cottolene is Nature's shortening—a vegetable product—healthful, digestible, in every way satisfactory.

A STRICTLY HIGH GRADE CAR.

The most satisfactory automobile built. None better at any price.

The easiest adjusted and repaired auto on the market. Don't overlook the fact that used Cadillac cars have a great value. A used Cadillac will give you more service and satisfaction than any new car at double the price.

I overhaul used Cadillac cars and give as binding a guarantee as you get on a new car.

You can get any part to any Cadillac ever built. They are built to last.

I have some renewed Cadillac cars, $600 to $1100. Catalogue mailed for the asking.

The Herald Hears

That Arthur Dedes will shortly open the store he formerly occupied at No. 60 Market street.

That the ice prospects are getting better every day.

That this may not help the price any in July and August.

That the days of February and March are the same dates on the calendar.

That a case of smallpox is reported in Derry.

That second thoughts are the best, when they are less expensive.

That the legislative committee on appropriations are at Durham today.

That the friends of a well-known Vaughan street wine clerk are booming him for Asst. Engineer.

That he is very modest in seeking the position.

That he has everything that goes with the job, even the hat, which has been donated by unknown friends.

That the sheriff seized booze in a cigar store at 185 Bedford on Thursday.

That they are finding wet goods in some queer places in that town of late.

That the baby carriage with the goods made a great hit there recently.

That the wrecking crew of the Boston & Maine put in a hard night on the Elliot wreck.

That it isn't the girl with the most cheek that does the most blushing.

That the navy yard bowlers in the Federal store are to have a banquet.

That the companies of the fire department are once more pleading their case with the approval of the engineers.

That we live and learn, but those who live the fastest don't always learn the most.

That the ground hog made a hit with the coat dealers.

That the head of many a man is overruled by either his heart or stomach.

WILL FLOOD POND.

Should Be Good Skating by Tomorrow.

Those who enjoy skating are not to be deprived of the sport any longer as there will be plenty by tomorrow on the South pond. Today Superintendent Barrett arranged with Chief Engineer Woods of the fire department for the flooding of the pond by the firemen at the central station this forenoon. The surface at present is very rough, but by tomorrow the pond ought to be in good shape for gliding by the young and old. The general public will certainly appreciate the move on the part of Superintendent Barrett.

FOR ADJUTANT.

Major Hoyt of This City Likely to Fill the Place.

Major Chamney B. Hoyt, coast artillery, N. H. C., is favorably mentioned for the position of adjutant-general under the administration of Governor Parker.

Premier Scenic Temple Programme

Program for Friday and Saturday. "The Maid of Honor"—Edison. The bridegroom and maid of honor meet only to find that they are old lovers. A charming story beautifully told.

"The Altar of the Aztecs"—Seelig. A romance dealing with the vivid and strange adventures of a young mining engineer in the mountains and mines of Old Mexico.

Song—Down in New Orleans.

Mr. Albert Hadley

"Max Joins the Giants"—Pathe.

A continuous merry-go-round of laughter from start to finish.

"The Prosecuting Attorney"—Kalem.

The young "canny" prosecutor secures the conviction of a noted criminal who threatened to even the score.

Song—Somehow I Can't Forget You.

Mr. Albert Hadley

"The Lost Note"—Lubin.

True Love may be blind but it sees the way out of many a difficulty.

"The Lipton Cup"
